

Proposed study

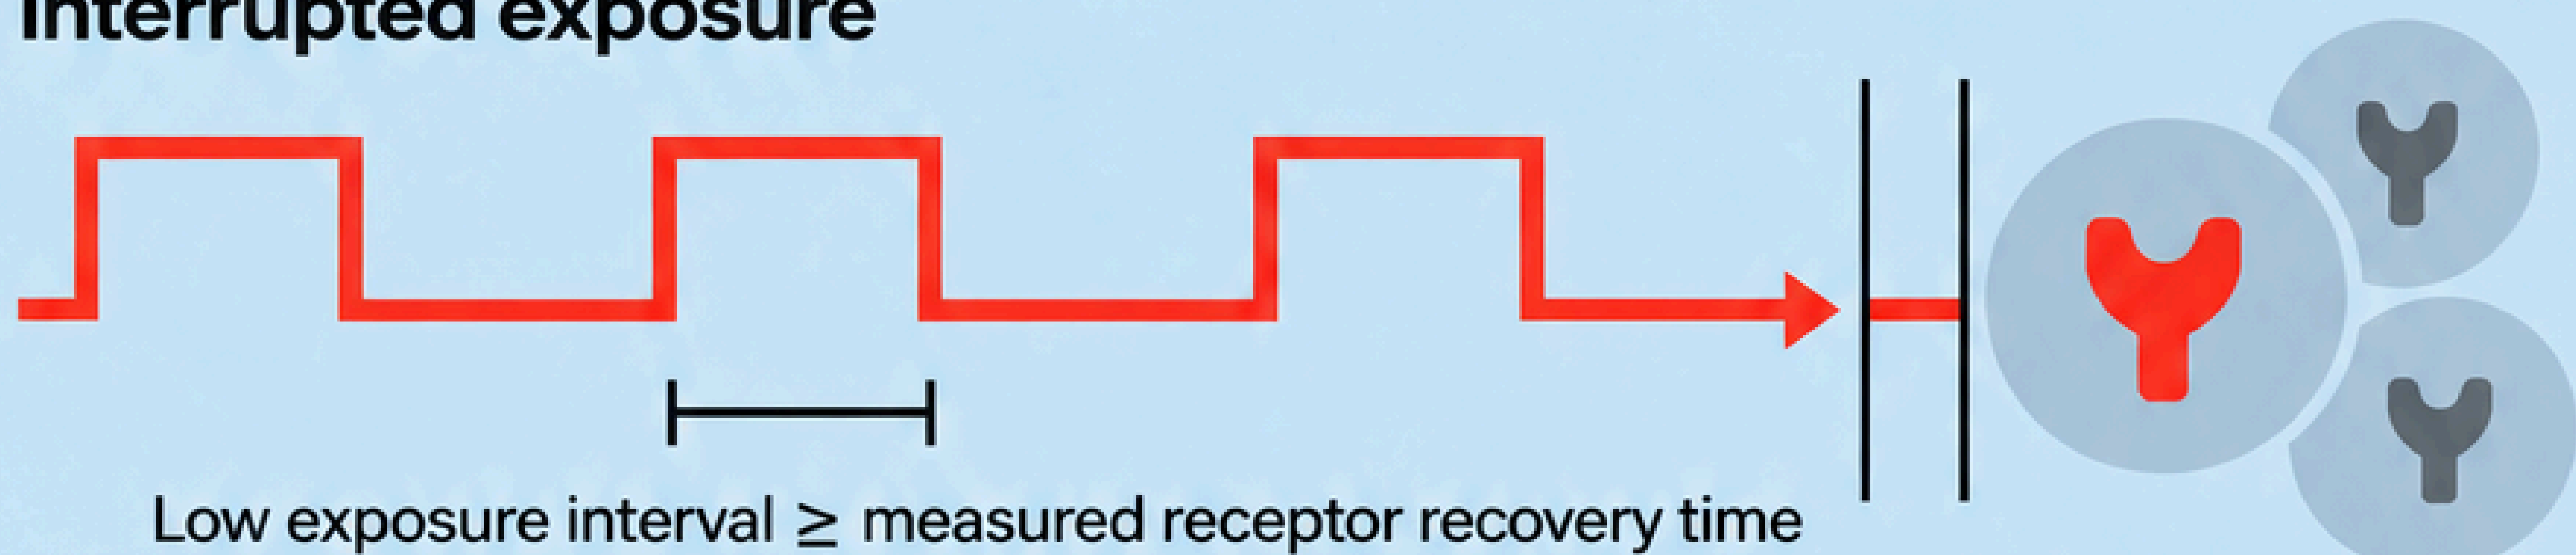

Estradiol interruptions renew receptors

Participant-derived cultures test menopause interventions for durable tissue function.

Constant exposure

Interrupted exposure

Prediction: improved receptor responsiveness and tissue function only after recovery-time breaks.